RE: American Highway Products

Attached is literature pertaining to "American Highway Products" manhole riser. This product has been presented to this office for our review and approval.

Basically we feel this may be an acceptable product. However, we do feel some prior testing should be performed prior to final approval.

Our suggestion to the manufacturer/distributor is to contact a cooperating contractor and have him install one or two on a DeIDOT project. If this proposal is submitted on one of your projects and you feel it a worthwhile trial, please let us know and we will monitor this project.

Please contact me if you have comments.
